Response to Amendment

1. Applicants' request for reconsideration filed on 7/7/2005 has been entered.
2. The amendment filed on 7/7/2005 has been entered (including amended claims).
3. Applicants' arguments filed on 7/7/2005 have been fully considered but they are not deemed to be persuasive.
4. The applicants contend, "Berstis et al.'s system only intercepts messages that are known to be error messages. Berstis et al. do not intercept all of the messages sent by the operating system to the display, as is required by claims 10-12, 14, and 15. Accordingly, Berstis et al. do not disclose this claim limitation, this reference does not, as a matter of law, anticipate these claims under 35 U.S.C. 102 (b)."
The examiner disagrees and asserts that Berstis et al. teach that the present invention provides a process in a data processing system for handling messages received in a message queue in a message handling process for a graphical user interface. In response to receiving a message in the queue, a determination is made as to whether the message will generate a user visible error message. In response to an identification of an error message, that message is intercepted before processing by the message handling process (col. 2, lines 6-13, Berstis et al.). Berstis et al. teach that column 802 indicates what reformatting of the error message is necessary to produce a new message for display to a user (col. 8, lines 28-30, Berstis et al.).
Thus, Berstis et al. search all messages sent from an operating system to a display.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

5. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter, "a computer readable medium method". It should be corrected to "a method stored in a computer readable medium".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

7. Claims 10, 11, 12, 14, 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Berstis et al. (US 5,909,215). See the office action mailed on 04/20/2005 for detailed rejection.

Conclusion

8. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
